SECOND YEAR.

MAYSVILLE, KY., TUESDAY, AUGUST 8, 1893.

ONE CENT.

TARIFF PICTURES.
The number of manufacturing employes in Norfolk, Va., increased 349.60 per cent. from 1880 to 1890. The total wages paid increased 293 per cent. in the same time. Protection works impartially, bringing more work and more wages to every section.
—New York Press.

DEMOCRATIC PRICES.
Chicago Inter Ocean.—John Bull is patronizing Uncle Sam's "bargain counter," and he is smart.

COSTLY TUITION.
Iowa State Register.—Experience is now the schoolmaster, and he is proving an expensive one. Since the 4th of March the people have paid him over a billion dollars.

TIRED.
Iowa State Register.—That "tired feeling" seems to have taken a violent hold of Governor Boies. It permeates a great many other people. Thousands are tired of these "good old Democratic days."

THAT "WILD TEAM."
Chicago Inter Ocean.—A snarling Cleveland organ says: "Grover Cleveland will get along without Republican advice." But the fact remains that he will doubtless be glad of Republican votes when he begins cracking the lash over the Congressional colts.

A WORD TO DEMOCRATIC WORKMEN.
New York Press.—A reader of The Press in Yonkers sends the following:
To the Editor of The Press.—Sir: "Organize Victory" was the heading of an excellent article in this morning's Press. It was timely, truthful and pointed. Thousands of those who voted the Democratic ticket last fall are not only sorry, but ashamed of themselves when they see the mistake they made and the disaster to workingmen which has resulted from Democratic triumph.

The Press believes that its Yonkers correspondent is right; and it has a few words to say especially to Democratic workingmen. It knows that many thousands of them are among its readers, for Democrats as well as Republicans like a newspaper that records the world's doings concisely, tells the truth without fear or favor and is the consistent champion of the people's rights.

The Press does not for one instant suppose that Democratic workingmen believe that the triumph of their party meant disaster to the industries of the country. It is for the interests of Democrats as well as Republicans that American industries shall be sustained, that employment shall be constant and wages high. Hard times for the Republican means hard times for the Democrat. Prosperity for Republicans means prosperity for Democrats. As American citizens we all have a common interest in the common welfare. The difference between us has been a difference of opinion as to the best way of promoting that welfare. We say "has been" for it is incredible that any intelligent wage earner can witness the daily closing of factories, reduction of wages and increase in the number of the unemployed without becoming convinced that the prosperity of American labor depends on rescuing American industries from the assault which the Democratic platform threatens.

Democratic workingmen! You have never known what Free-trade is. You were told by your campaign orators and the organs of your party last fall that the overthrow of Protection meant "better times," more work and more money for you. You were told that the manufacturers were robbing you of your just dues; you were urged to strike down the tariff in order to reduce their profits. The cunning politicians who humbugged you for the sake of getting office for themselves did not tell you what they knew very well,—that tariff destruction meant idle factories, silent mines and hunger-stricken homes. They did not tell you that to surrender the home market to the foreigner would compel every American manufacturer to close his mill or cut down the wages of his hands to the foreign pauper standard. They did not tell you that capital and labor must go hand in hand to make prosperity; that the true interests of employer and employee were the same; that the blow struck at capital must rebound with doubled force in the face of the toiler.

The demagogues who wanted your votes were silent as to these things; but you have seen that they are true. You have seen the wheels of industry stopped, business paralyzed, mills closing that never closed before, and wages of labor cut down or cut off altogether by the mere threat of Free-trade. Are you willing to see these conditions multiplied a hundred fold; to see yourselves and your families reduced to poverty and degradation by the fulfillment of that threat?

ACROSS THE RIVER.

There Was a Row Over the Aberdeen Teachers' Institute.

The Teachers' Institute met at Aberdeen yesterday.

They met in the Baptist Church.

Before doing so, they got permission from the church officials.

And before they went over John Weaver, one of the former church officers who had not been deposed, went down to the church and posted a notice forbidding the meeting.

P. W. Waldron, one of Aberdeen's best citizens, tore the offensive notice down and proceeded to put the church in order for the gathering.

This roused the ire of Weaver.

And he went off and loaded up with a "razor" and hunted for Waldron.

He found him sitting on a barrel near a neighboring grocery.

Walking up behind him, Weaver spoke and as Waldron turned Weaver dealt him a blow in the eye.

Which was soon followed by another blow. Bystanders interfered and Weaver was caged.

He didn't attempt the razor act.

There was strong talk last night of rebaptizing Weaver in the river, that his repeated sins might be washed away.

SUDDEN DEATH.

Mrs. Chris. D. Russell Dies Very Suddenly of Heart Failure.

The city was shocked this morning about 9 o'clock when the death of Mrs. Chris. D. Russell was reported.

She died at her home on West Third street, to which they moved a short time ago from the residence of the husband's father. She was 22 years of age.

Her death was caused by heart failure, and was so sudden and unexpected that the face of every one bore an expression of sympathy for the young husband, to whom it is indeed a distressing occurrence.

Mrs. Russell was formerly Miss Nannie Burgess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Burgess. Mr. and Mrs. Russell had been married only eighteen months, and their happiness and love for one another was apparent to all their friends and acquaintances, and their untimely separation is sincerely regretted, and, though apparently cruel, is the will of God.

No arrangements have yet been made for the funeral.

P. B. EDGINGTON is pushing the brick work on the Parsonage for the Christian Church.

CHAMPE FARROW was in the city yesterday and reports the loss of a quantity of whisky.

THE advertisement of Hayswood Female Seminary appears in this issue. This is a splendid school for the instruction of young ladies.

THE Council of Administration has reported to the Director General of the World's Fair to look into those naughty dances on Midway Plaisance, and to close the theaters if he thinks them immoral.

S. H. POYNTER of Johnson Junction reported to Chief Fitzgerald yesterday the loss of a horse. The animal will perhaps be found, as the Chief has an idea where he is, and he is generally right.

MISS FANNIE ORT, the charming daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ort, is to be married to William Stapleton at the M. E. Church, South, at Concord on Wednesday evening, August 19th, at 8 o'clock.

It is estimated that $286,000 will be saved in four years by the contract made by Postmaster General Russell for the millions of postal cards used. Calvin C. Woolworth of Castleton, N. Y., will furnish the cards.

THE Executive Committee of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor of the Central Presbyterian Church is requested to meet at the church to-morrow evening at 7 o'clock. There is business of importance to attend to, and it is desired that all will be present.

ATTEMPTED ROBBERY.

There was considerable excitement on Market street about 9 o'clock last night.

People rushed from every direction to Weiland's saloon and one would have supposed that there was a massacre therein.

But the commotion was all created by burglars entering the rear of W. C. Richeson's grocery by a rear window, which they had broken out.

The police and a posse of citizens were soon on the scene, and a search of the premises followed. No one was found about the grocery and the adjoining yard, in the rear of Rosenau Bros. establishment was searched, and Robert Hill, a plasterer living in the Sixth Ward, was found hiding in a store box. He pretended to be asleep, but was soon aroused by a large crowd thrown by one of the citizens. He was placed under arrest and the hunt for the premises with Hill, was continued, but they succeeded in making good their escape through the darkness.

Just outside the door was found a basket filled with canned goods and a quantity of writing paper and envelopes, which would indicate that the thieves were of a literary turn of mind as well as hungry.

Hill made a confession to Chief Fitzgerald and implicated one Keno Maze in the attempted robbery.

Maze and Dayton Willett were arrested at their respective homes about 12 o'clock last night and lodged in jail, and the trio will have a hearing before Mayor Pearce to-morrow.

These fellows were rather bold in attempting to effect an entrance so early in the evening, but they were perhaps encouraged by the fact that Mr. Richeson had gone to the World's Fair and posted the following sign on his door: "Will Be Back Friday." The men have all been before the Mayor on the charge of drunkenness, &c., but were never before arrested for stealing.

If the blister, upon being opened with a pin or other instrument, is found to contain fluid of any kind there is still life in the supposed corpse. On the other hand, should it contain steam only, rest assured that the vital spark has flown.

It pleases the lawyer and his client, too, to have the verdict of the jury unanimous. A great jury, composed of the American public, has rendered an unanimous verdict on Dr. Hale's Household Cough Cure as a medicine, agreeing that it promises of a speedy cure for coughs, colds and bronchial troubles are always carried out to the letter.
